Keeping Pace with '60

As we near the end of a four-year journey the Pacemaker staff takes a look at the steps which mark our path through four years at Holy Name. For even in this atomic-powered age, it was necessary for us to walk with a steadfast purpose to achieve our goal--graduation.

Faltering and uneasy though our steps may have been during the early days of high school, we soon hit our stride and proceeded with determination to follow the WAY, the TRUTH, and the LIFE, as directed by the Redemptorist Fathers, Servite Sisters, and lay faculty of our school.

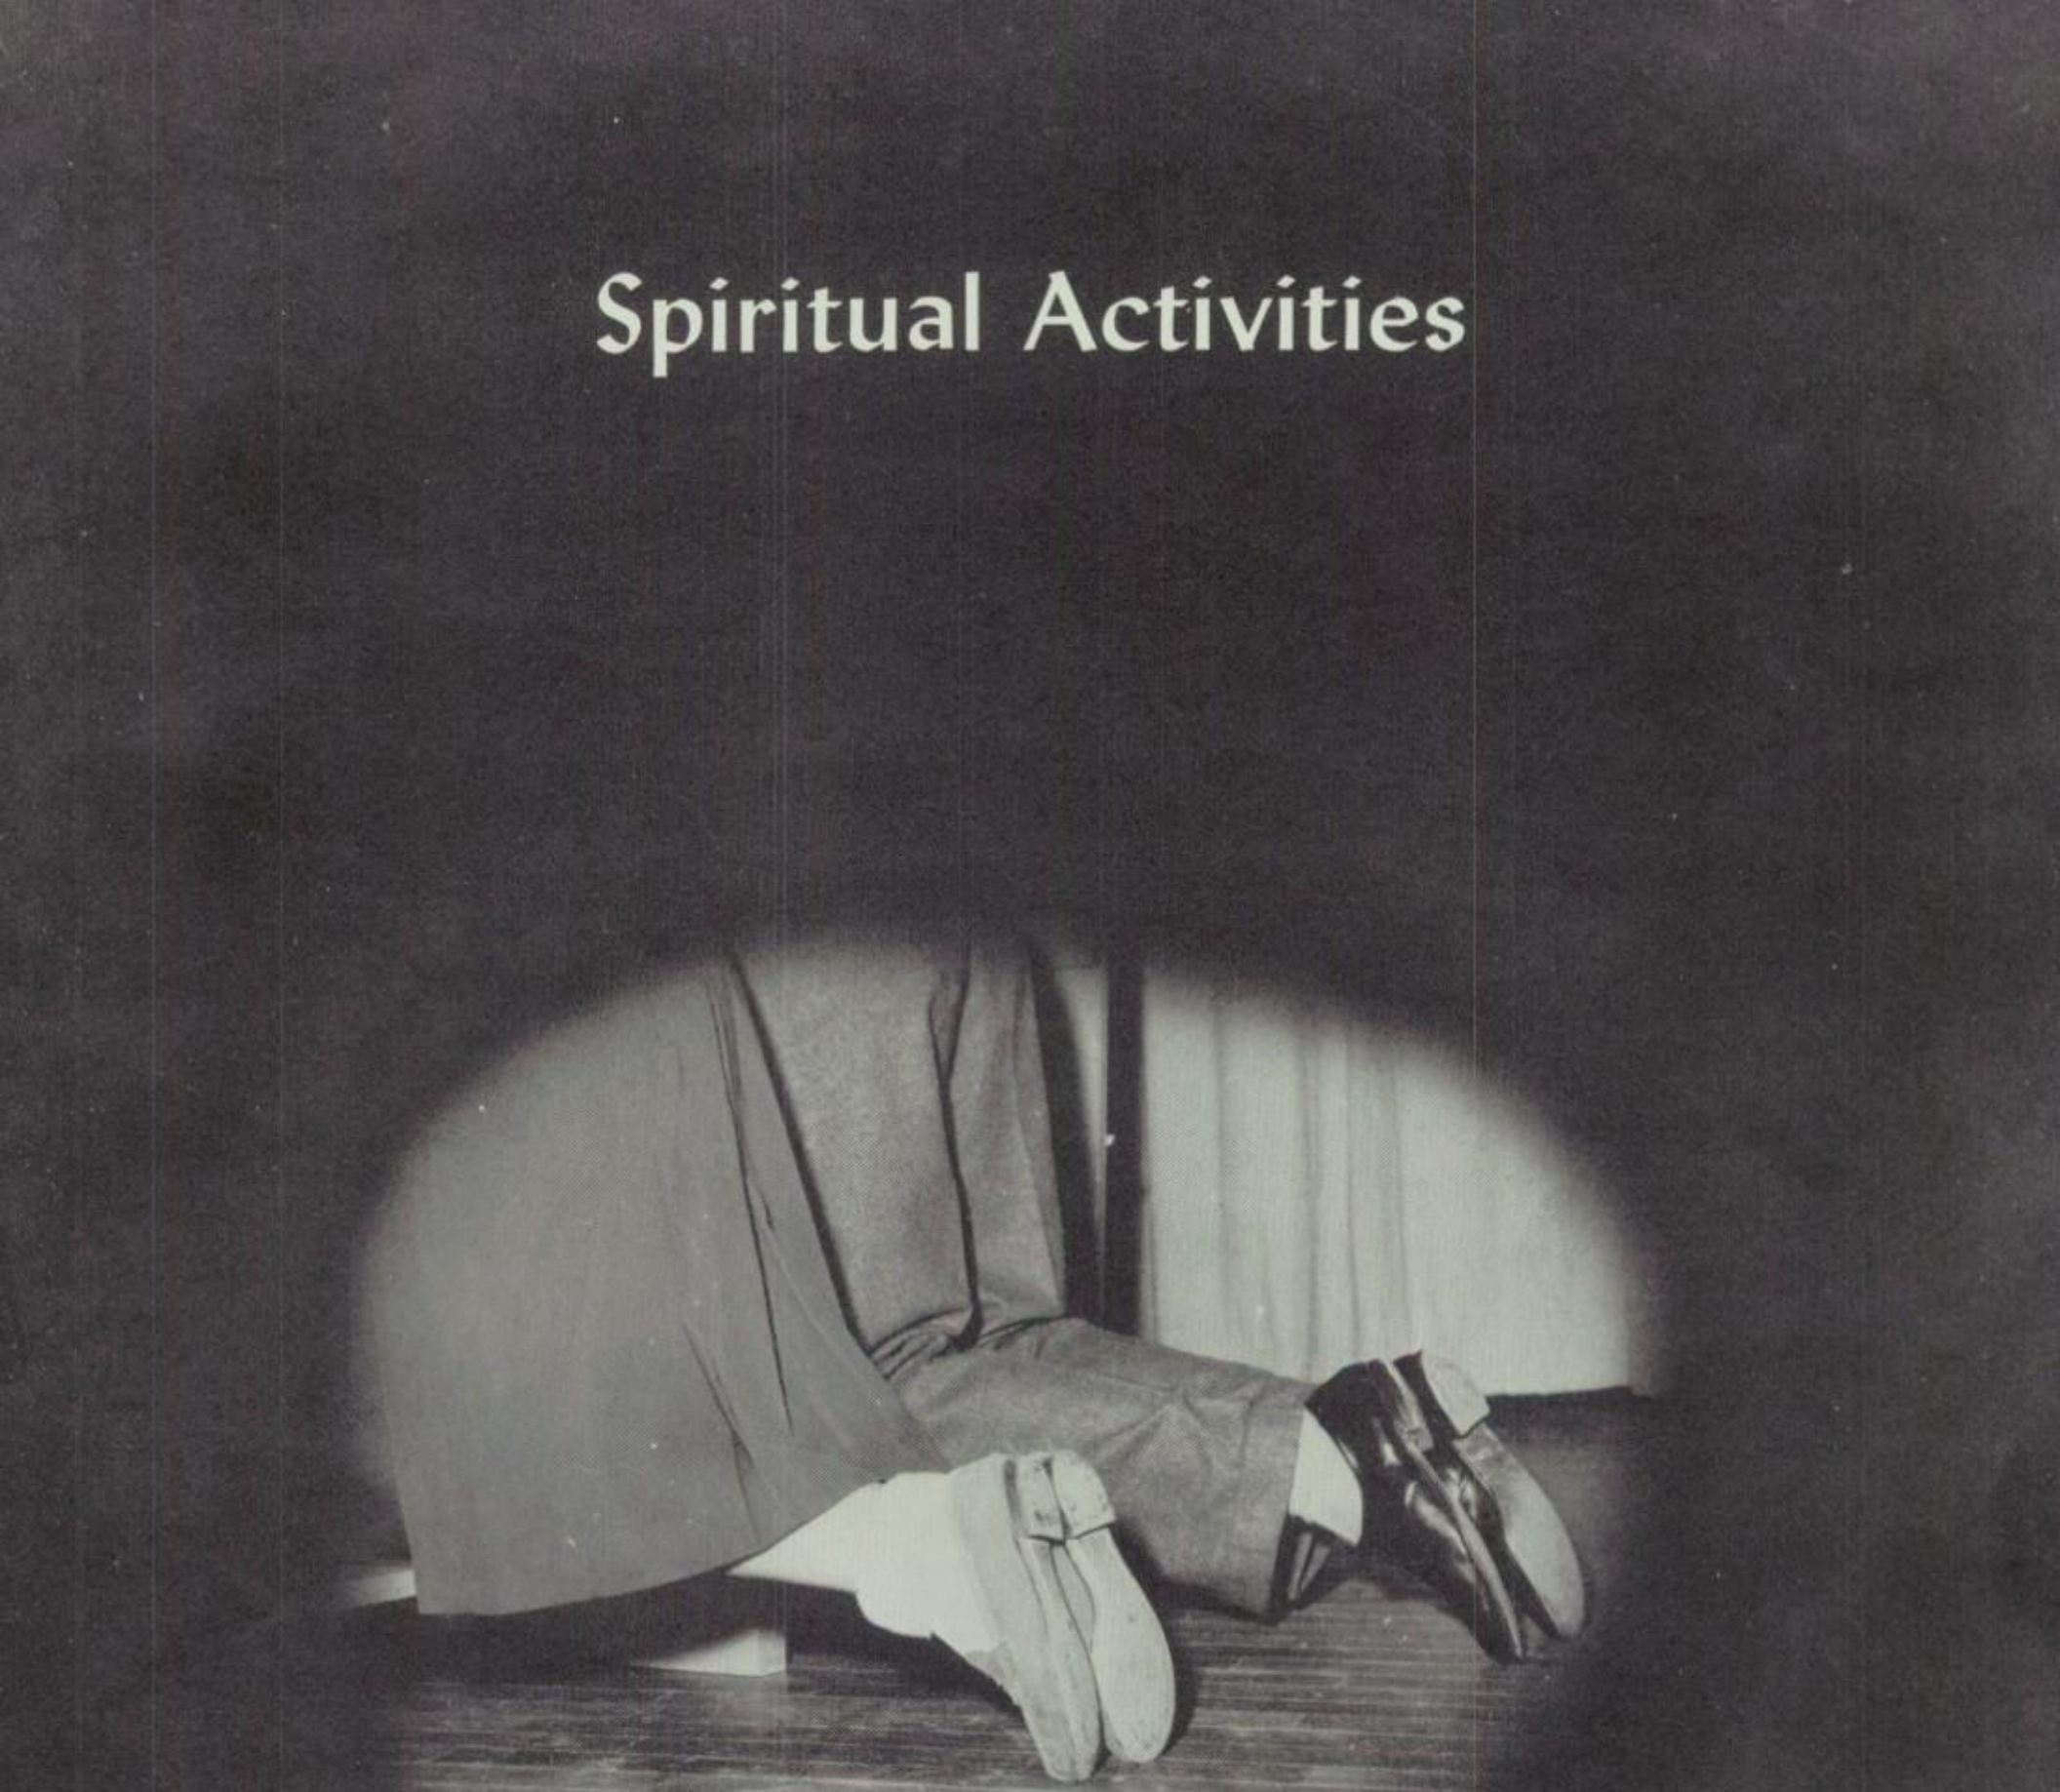
Go to Joseph

Over thirty years ago a kindly donor gave Holy Name its Patron of the Halls--Saint Joseph.

It was her wish that Saint Joseph would guide, guard, and protect the students who pass this statue day after day, and that they would "Go To Joseph" in time of need.

The Pacemaker Staff dedicates the 1960 PACEMAKER to our loving patron saint.

Spiritual Activities



"I will go up to the Altar of God;
To God who gives joy to my youth."

Confident and firm were the steps that led us to the altar of God and the shrine of Our Mother of Perpetual Help where we returned thanks and sought assistance for the days ahead.

Annual Retreat Gives Pickup

Breaking with tradition, Holy Name students commenced the 1959-60 scholastic term by an opening retreat instead of the usual mid-semester break. September 25, 26 and 27 were days set aside for the event. The seniors set the pace by establishing the tradition of perfect silence during these three days of grace.

FATHER JOSEPH OSTRANDER, CSsR ASSISTED the retreat master by giving some conferences for the underclassmen in the cafeteria.

RETREAT IS THE TIME for a good confession. Maureen Brennan leaves the confessional, while Harley Swanson, Jean Betterman, and Howard Kirk wait their turn. Tom Lang and Fred Valandra are also preparing to receive the sacrament of Penance.

to Student Spiritual Life

The theme presented by Father James Martin, CSsR, was "Am I a friend of Jesus Christ?" Spiritual "pick-ups" encouraged by Father Martin in his conferences to the students included daily and diligent examination of conscience, frequent reception of the sacraments, and increased devotion to our Mother of Perpetual Help.

BEAUTIFUL INDIAN SUMMER DAYS permitted the retreatants to spend some time out of doors in quiet meditation.

FATHER JAMES MARTIN, CSsR, WAS celebrant of the Solemn High Mass honoring the youth of Holy Name. He was assisted by Father Joseph Gumler and Father Joseph Ostrander. Robert Andresen acted as master of ceremonies.

MANY RECEIVED Holy Communion during the Solemn High Mass.

Parish Honors

"Spiritualize Youth, Vitalize Nations!" These were familiar words to Holy Namers during the week October 25-November 1, as they entered into the spirit of Catholic Youth Week.

Inspired by the motto, the faculty and parents honored HN students on Monday evening, October 26, with a Solemn High Mass offered for the intentions of the students. This was followed by a dinner in the cafeteria and a dance in the big gym.

SUSIE McGUIRE AND LAVONNE SCHROEDER MADE hundreds of nut cups for the banquet tables.

EVERYONE ENJOYED the banquet which was prepared and served by the parents of Holy Name students.

CONDE BURKHISER AND TOM LUBY PERFORM informally at the dance which followed the banquet.

Catholic Youth

The theme for the week was brought to light again on Friday, October 30, when the students of Holy Name presented an assembly program honoring the Redemptorist Fathers--spiritualizers of youth in Holy Name parish.

Catholic Youth Week activities concluded with Mass and Holy Communion on November 1.

DENNIS SMITH PORTRAYED the part of the priest, and Mike Peterson was the young man who learned the power of Our Blessed Mother, in the playlet presented by the Senior Class on October 30.

Sodalists Prepare for Lay Apostolate

CONNIE SANTI and Joan Fitzpatrick were panelists at this meeting.

Foremost among student organizations at Holy Name is the Sodality of Our Mother of Perpetual Help. The personal sanctification of its members, devotion to Our Lady, and an effective student apostolate are the primary aims of the sodality.

Here at HN the sodality is composed of six active units and two probationary units. Each unit is under the direction of a Sister, Servant of Mary.

Sodality units meet each Wednesday afternoon. Probationary members receive instructions in the "sodality way of life," and study the sodality rule. Other units hold panel discussions, listen to a visiting speaker, and enlist other aids which will help them to become better sodalists.

Other activities include monthly Sodality Union meetings, Summer School of Catholic Action, the organization of Catholic Youth Week program, and preparation of Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets for needy families.

Sodalists Aim at High Ideals

"LET THEM DEVOTE at least a quarter of an hour to mental prayer," is the admonition of the Sodality rule. Training in this all-important spiritual exercise is received at the weekly sodality meetings.

Pictured at the right: Steve Scott reads a few points for meditation from the New Testament at the weekly meeting of the sophomore boys' unit.

"Be your perfect as your heavenly Father is perfect." This is the challenge of Christ taken up by members of the sodality. In their search for perfection sodalists make use of daily Mass, daily rosary, frequent reception of the sacraments, mental prayer, and spiritual reading. Fifteen minutes spent in solitude with Christ each day does wonders to deepen the spiritual life of the students.

Through well-planned meetings, which quite often include interesting panel discussions, sodalists receive inspiration and new ideas on how to become "Catholic plus" in their daily living.

Angels of Mercy

Faith in Mary, the Legion's Pillar of Fire, guides the members in their spiritual and corporal works ofmercy.

Visiting the aged at St. Vincent's Home is the important mission of the junior members of the Legion of Mary. Some other good works undertaken by the members are singing high Mass, babysitting, helping children with their prayers, and recruiting auxiliary members.

DISTRIBUTING LEGION PAMPHLETS is the task of Jean and Linda.

It is through the generosity of the Redemptorist Fathers that the students are able to receive instructions in the eternal truths of our faith, assist at daily Mass, and receive the sacraments frequently. They also find the Fathers readily available for wise counseling and spiritual direction.

Christian Ideals Motivate Faculty

As principal of Holy Name School, Mother Mary Evangelista, OSM, counsels, guides, and directs the faculty in its task of instructing youth. The formation of young men and women fortified with the ideas, habits, and attitudes necessary for Christ-like living is the common goal of principal and faculty.

Knowledge of subject matter, faith in student achievement, and friendly counseling have enabled the faculty to mold men and women who will be prepared to live fruitful lives in present-day society.

MOTHER MARY EVANGELISTA, OSM
Principal

A capable administrator of student affairs, Mother Evangelista has two favorite fields of endeavor--scholarship and speech activities. Mother would like all HN students to be true scholars and she has labored hard to raise the scholastic standards of our school. Speech and debate enthusiasts can count on a helping hand from Mother at all times.

JIM HALBACH AND PHIL KEOUGH, preparing for a T-V discussion, receive some assistance from Mother Evangelista.

PAT ROBINSON AND MARY PAT BAKER give Mother M. Evangelista a helping hand with the multitudinous task of record keeping for the grade and high school.

into the lives of students at Holy Name. "A singing school is a happy school." With that thought in mind, Holy Name makes music available to everyone who is interested in developing a musical talent or simply in acquiring an appreciation of good music.

In general music classes the freshmen and sophomores travel up and down the scales as voices are tested and trained for advanced choir and chorus work to be undertaken in the junior and senior years. Chorus classes, choir, special voice groups, private piano and vocal lessons give all an opportunity to enjoy the beauty of music.

to the inquiring minds of youth, and the science classes at Holy Name arouse even more interest in matters scientific. FUNDAMENTALS OF SCIENCE launches the frosh in space, while sophs explore the delicate secrets of life in a lab which Sister M. Borgia keeps filled with "living, moving things."

Sometimes they learn first-hand about chemical reactions when mercury is dropped on a class ring or someone gets too close to explosive test tubes.

Student Council Extends Operations

Organized in 1952, the Student Council has gained steadily in prestige at Holy Name. This year the council widened the scope of its activities to include a Christmas door decorating contest and a Christmas caroling program. These events were well received by the student body and will become annual events. The council also arranged a display of Catholic books for Catholic Press month.

No one could be ignorant of what goes on at Holy Name, since the weekly bulletin prepared by council members kept everyone posted on the latest in school regulations. The orderly conduct of fire drills, monitoring of halls between classes, and ushering at school assemblies were other tasks efficiently discharged by the student council.

TOM TEDESCO COMPLETES THE SALE of a Rambler ball-point pen to Tom Mosser, and thus swells the Student Council treasury.

UP-TO-THE-MINUTE NEWS ABOUT SCHOOL is published weekly in the Student Council Bulletin prepared by council member Audrey Young and Tracy Brown.

THERE'S PLENTY OF BUSINESS for this council of teenagers. Junior Red Cross always has a project underway and John Ford, Jo Culotta, Steve Larsen, Joan Fitzpatrick, and Diane Boismier see that Holy Name students do their part. Steve Larsen is president of the council at HN.

J. R. C. Lends Helping Hand

The Junior Red Cross is organized to lend a helping hand to the less fortunate--to give teen-agers an active part in the life of the community. With a 100% enrollment at Holy Name, members of JRC are actively engaged in numerous programs. Parties for hospitals, gift boxes, food baskets for the needy are a few of their worthwhile functions.

Recent innovations are writing portfolios, parties-in-a-box, and dish gardens which bring cheer to both the young and old in hospitals throughout Omaha.

SOPHS Kathy O'Connell, Lois McConnell, Karen Schafer, and Ann Moran inspect writing portfolios and gift boxes before sending them to the Junior Red Cross Chapter House.

A headline that fits, a picture with a "different" pose, a catchy lead, a story, a feature, a column . . . these are a few of the problems which face staff members as they labor to get the FLAMBEAU to press. HN's "All-Catholic" newspaper is published six times a year.

While Holy Name has no formal journalism class, the students learn by doing. Under the supervision of Sister Mary Rosaria, staff members gain valuable experience in news writing, layout, and photography. Joan Fitzpatrick is editor.

In Tune with '60

"Say it with music" could be the motto of Holy Name's Choral Club. Members of this organization can, and do, provide appropriate music for any and every occasion whether it be the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass or an assembly program which needs that extra bit of style provided by beautiful music.

The Christmas Cantata and spring operetta are annual performances which never fail to delight patrons of Holy Name.

COLLECTING AND FILING music is the special task of librarians Pat Pankey and Barb Stevens.

"LET'S USE THIS SONG!" . . . Music Club officers select a number for the Christmas Cantata.

A television program and an evening of favorite songs for the October Home and School meeting were added to the Club's public appearances this year. Other events included Christmas carols at the Union Station and St. Joseph's hospital, a Christmas concert at Joslyn Memorial, and the annual district music contests.

RON RACINE, aided by Pat Menous, Terry Haftings, Julie Wolff, and Tracy Brown, checks the phone book for addresses of song festival patrons.

SEARCHING FOR NEW IDEAS, Editors Rosemary Gladieux, Jo Culotta, Patty Jo Scott, dig into stacks of exchange yearbooks.

"Keeping Pace with '60" has been the challenge of the 1960 Pacemaker staff. A record-breaking magazine drive got the staff off to a good start. With money in the bank, the staff could see their way clear to placing eight additional pages in the 1960 book, and topping this with a padded cover.

Picture schedules, layout puzzles, and copy deadlines are just a few of the headaches which come with producing a yearbook.

The "A" rating received by the 1959 staff from the NYSA has been our inspiration for planning and producing a bigger and better yearbook.

Honor Society Recognizes Outstanding Students

Students who strive to advance scholarship, generous service, and active leadership in our school are honored by membership in the Liguori Chapter of the National Honor Society.

The annual induction ceremony was held on February 17 with Joan Fitzpatrick, president, presiding. Fourteen members and twelve charter members renewed their pledge at this ceremony. A historical review of the society's origin and aims preceded the ceremonial lighting of the torches for scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

Debate Offers Challenge

Because of its extemporaneous nature and the long hours of research and study that are necessary to build a case, debate is considered the most difficult of speech activities. There are only a few who are able to accept the challenge.

What HN's debate team lacked in numbers they made up for in enthusiasm, and Holy Name was ably represented at Tech High, Pius X, Lincoln Northeast, Nebraska Wesleyan, Lincoln Southeast, and Bishop Ryan tournaments by Marie Buchta, Jody Anderson, Mike Schadendorf, Fred Gehrman, and Jim Halbach.

H. N. Bids for State

Holy Name conquered an undefeated Ralston team, 75-59, to gain its sixth consecutive district championship. This makes a perfect record for Coach Robert Gates, who has taken his Ramblers to the state meet six times in six years of coaching at HN.

Holy Name defeated Tekamah and Hooper to move into the district finals. Excellent coaching and superb teamwork are the keys to Rambler success. Chuck Sladovnik was outstanding throughout the season in gathering rebounds and points, but it was never a one-man show when Holy Name played. Tom Smith and Steve Balkovec were also excellent on rebounds.

Steady Jerry Miller had a deadly outcourt aim and was a scoring factor on the team, as was Dennis Schiltz, a good defense man. Tom Luby, a real scrapper and good on rebounds, and Bob Andresen, an all-round good player with a cool head rounded out HN's championship team.

"We want State," is the cry as the PACEMAKER goes to press.

Ramblers Roll

In the fourth game of the 1960 season Holy Name downed their arch-rival, Omaha Cathedral, 52-41, on the Cardinals' court. Previous to this HN had suffered a defeat by Abraham Lincoln of Council Bluffs; then rocked Tekamah 63-37. The first really close game of the season was played against Kuemper of Carroll, Iowa. There a strong second half put the Ramblers on top 47-45. Chuck Sladovnik led the scoring for the Ramblers against A.L., Tekamah, and Cathedral. Tom Luby was high point man in the Kuemper game.

Always tough, Heelan High of Sioux City came calling on January 8 for the first post-holiday fray. The Ramblers unveiled a new weapon with Jerry Miller, senior guard, putting on an out-court shooting display. The Ramblers were victorious, 60-54.

Holy Name ran into control ball against the Bonnies of Columbus, but still managed to win impressively, 58-37. Well-balanced scoring with Chuck Sladovnik and Steve Balkovec leading the way made the difference for Holy Name.

The first interstate loss of the season was suffered against Minden, 55-51, on January 16. The Whippets pulled ahead late in the fourth quarter to win the game.

After the loss to Minden, HN's winning streak held for the remainder of the season. Bellevue, Piux X, South Sioux City, Bishop Ryan, York, and Omaha Cathedral all fell before the Ramblers.

One of the sweetest victories of the year was that wrested from York, top-ranked team in Class B. On February 5, those out-state smoothies dropped a close decision to the Ramblers, 49-41.

HN kept its record clean in its second encounter this season with Omaha Cathedral. The Cardinals have yet to win a basketball game from Holy Name. Ramblers won by one point on February 12 at HN's fieldhouse.

Auburn Win Boosts Ramblers to First Place

Holy Name was rated tops, Class B division, by OMAHA WORLD-HERALD after the Ramblers smashed Auburn High, 80-39. The verdict was never in doubt, as Holy Name played one of their best games drowning their opponents with a 49-point lead.

A second bout with Bishop Ryan and a game with Blair closed the 1960 season. The boys in blue defeated Ryan 74-32, and slammed the Blair Bisons, 81-52, in the final pre-tourney game.
